YOUR CAMPUS

The University of Melbourne has been a central part of the city of Melbourne from its earliest days. It's hard to say where the central business district stops, and the University begins! When you come to Melbourne, you'll join a vibrant medical precinct, a world-famous artistic community, a thriving startup network, and urban and rural researchers who'll be feeding the world into the future. We have two campuses in the city – Parkville and Southbank – and five other specialist campuses in Victoria. Which Melbourne will be yours?

PARKVILLE

Our Parkville campus is a city within a city – it even has its own postcode. With cafes, 12 libraries, gyms, specialty stores, a small supermarket – even a seasonal farmers market – spread across a mix of historic sandstone buildings and state-of-the-art facilities, you'll never have to leave. The Parkville campus is situated within a renowned knowledge precinct, which includes eight hospitals, many leading research institutes and a wide range of knowledge-based industries.

SOUTHBANK

At Southbank campus, among the city's lively creative arts precinct – which itself is in the centre of Australia's cultural capital – you'll find the University's acclaimed music and visual and performing arts faculty. Southbank campus is purpose-built for the creative arts, and features sound and dance stages, animation studios, cinemas and visual arts studios. It sits alongside the National Gallery of Victoria, Melbourne Theatre Company, Melbourne Recital Centre, the Australian Ballet, Chunky Move dance company, the Arts Centre and the Australian Centre for Contemporary Art.

YOUR HOME AWAY FROM HOME

The University of Melbourne offers exchange and study abroad students a range of accommodation options to suit different personalities, budgets and lifestyles. This includes on and off-campus accommodation.

ADVICE AND SUPPORT

A detailed guide is available on our website and we have a full-time staff member assisting incoming exchange and study abroad students.

study.unimelb.edu.au/how-to-apply/exchange-and-study-abroad/getting-ready/accommodation-options

The University also has a fantastic online noticeboard which allows University of Melbourne students (or soon to be students) to search for share housing.

MELBOURNE ACCOMMODATION PROGRAM

Quality purpose-built student accommodation is available to you as an exchange and study abroad student via the Melbourne Accommodation Program. You can choose from properties owned or approved by the University in a range of locations. A variety of different room and apartment types at a range of price points are available close to campus.

These properties are specifically designed for students to support your transition to university life. Student engagement activities, including cultural events, and 24-hour access to support provide a sense of community and security.

The accommodation comes fully furnished. You typically share some facilities such as pools, gyms and common rooms, and have plenty of opportunities to meet other students.

To discover more about the Melbourne Accommodation Program, the application process and terms and conditions, visit:

study.unimelb.edu.au/your-experience/accommodation/apply-for-accommodation/melbourne-accommodation-program

RESIDENTIAL COLLEGES

There are 11 colleges for undergraduate and graduate students on and around the Parkville campus. Each one is different, but they all share a strong sense of belonging. At the core of the colleges are residential tutors and senior students who live among newer students. They are there to support you, offer advice and act as mentors. Colleges all offer comprehensive tutorial programs that provide supplementary learning for your subjects and a variety of sporting, cultural and social opportunities. Most offer a single furnished room, with common recreation rooms and bathrooms. Meals are provided.

colleges.unimelb.edu.au

SHARE HOUSING AND PRIVATE RENTALS

Private rental properties can be leased from a landlord or real estate agent. You can rent alone or with friends, or move into an already established share house.

HOMESTAY

Homestay means you live with a family, a couple or single person in their own home. Each situation is different and can include part board (room only), full board (room plus meals) or board in exchange for household duties.

YOUR STUDIES

The University of Melbourne's exchange and study abroad program is flexible, allowing you to choose undergraduate and graduate subjects from most degrees across our schools and faculties.

YOUR SUBJECTS

You will take three or four subjects to equal a total credit load of 37.5 to 50 points (each subject is usually worth 12.5 credit points). As long as you meet the prerequisite requirements, you can combine these from any area. For example, you could take two subjects in science, one in business and one in arts. Of all the subjects listed in the University Handbook, there are only a few specialist areas that are not open to exchange and study abroad students. These include medicine, dentistry, health sciences, veterinary science and film and television. Some biomedicine and law subjects are also restricted. Refer to our website for details on availability:

<https://study.unimelb.edu.au/how-to-apply/exchange-and-study-abroad/program-options/research-program/faculty-specific-requirements-and-restrictions>

For each subject, you usually attend a combination of large lectures and small group tutorials or laboratory classes. Contact hours vary depending on the subjects you choose, but are usually between 12–18 hours per week in total.

While you may have fewer contact hours than in your home institution, the demands placed on you to learn independently outside the classroom makes the workload equivalent to that which most students experience at home.

ASSESSMENT AND GRADING

Assessment may consist of essays, class or group exercises, case studies, projects, reports, class presentations, or exams. One subject may only require two or three pieces of assessment. In some areas, up to 80 per cent of the assessment may be based on an exam at the end of the semester. Further information on how each subject is assessed can be found in the University Handbook:

handbook.unimelb.edu.au

Official transcripts of your semester's results are automatically sent to your home institution for credit towards your home degree, unless specifically requested otherwise. A Statement of Results can be accessed free of charge at any time during your studies on our student website. How your marks are translated is the responsibility of your home institution. Check with your home institution regarding its policy.

Below is a suggested translation scale for the conversion of University of Melbourne marks into Canadian, US or European grades (translation of results in other countries varies from one institution to another).

HOW TO SEARCH FOR SUBJECTS

To apply for exchange or study abroad at Melbourne, you'll first need to identify the subjects you wish to study.

UNIVERSITY HANDBOOK

You can search all University of Melbourne subjects in the University's online Handbook:

handbook.unimelb.edu.au

To find University breadth subjects, type 'UNIB' into the search bar on the Handbook homepage.

If you're not sure what faculty or graduate school your study area fits into, look them up here:

unimelb.edu.au/az/faculties.html

SUBJECT YEAR LEVELS

The first number listed in the subject code indicates the year of the subject:

- Numbers 1–3 indicate the subject is a first, second or third-year subject in a Melbourne undergraduate degree
- Numbers 5–9 indicate a graduate-level subject (not in any particular order)
- Number 4 usually indicates the subject is part of an honours degree (these subjects are not usually open to visiting students).

For example, HORT20012 is a second-year undergraduate subject and BTCH90005 is a graduate-level subject.

View our complete guide about subjects and faculties at Melbourne online:

1

The Handbook is Melbourne's searchable database of all courses and subjects. This is the best place to start when looking for subjects to study.

handbook.unimelb.edu.au

2

In the Search box, type a topic that interests you, such as biology, marketing, or Australia.

3

Click 'subjects' on the left-hand side to ensure you will see only subjects/classes and not degrees/courses in your search results. If the keyword you entered is in the title of the subject or in the description of the subject, the subject will appear on the list.

4

Click on the subject name to get more detailed information such as prerequisites or corequisites, assessment details, and timetabling. Make sure you have completed the prerequisites to ensure you are eligible to study the subject.

5

Laboratory/practicum is sometimes included under the primary subject name and description. Labs are not always offered separately. Review the subject description to learn the percentage of lecture and practicum time.

6

Confirm the subject will be offered during the semester you plan to be in Melbourne and note the subject name and code, as you will need this for your application.

7

There is no need for additional enrolment confirmation as space will be available for you if you are approved to study the subject. You will be able to enrol in approved subjects prior to your arrival.

TRANSITION AND SUPPORT

Even though your stay with us may be short, the range of support services we offer will help you adjust to life in Australia and provide you with ongoing assistance when you need it.

ORIENTATION AND ENROLMENT

The Orientation and Enrolment program marks the beginning of the University of Melbourne semester. This is the period where you finalise your chosen subjects, become acquainted with the campus and facilities and, most importantly, meet other students. You can attend workshops and lectures covering topics such as cultural differences, adjusting to a new academic culture and how to explore Australia on a budget.

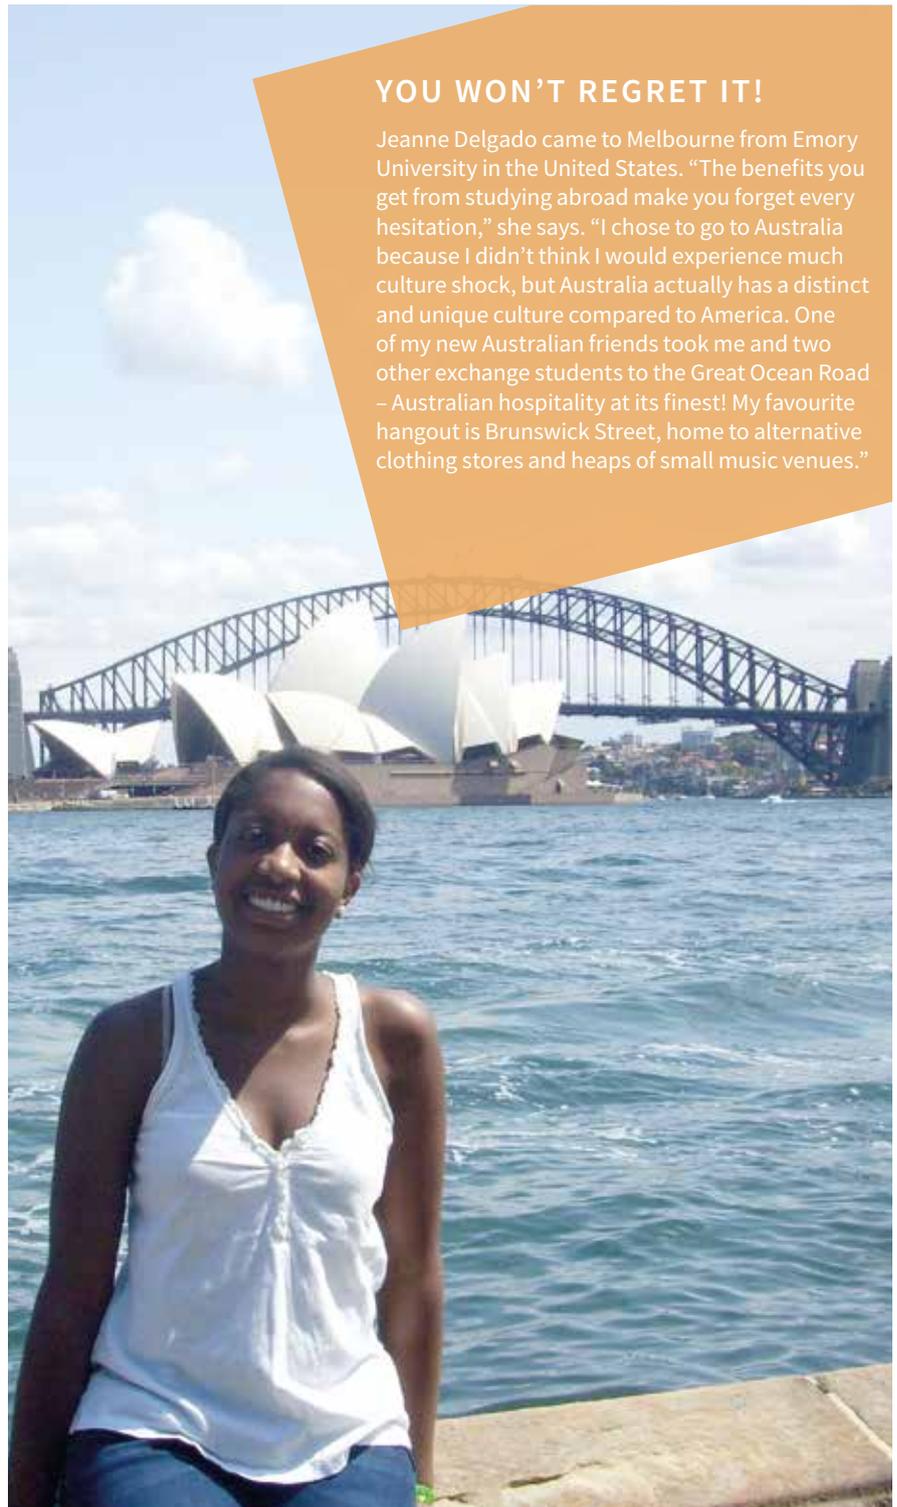

OTHER SERVICES

Whatever help you need, you're bound to find it on campus. As well as the above services, we also offer our students the following support:

- Academic skills
- Advocacy service
- Careers and employment service
- Chaplaincy
- Counselling
- Disability support
- Financial aid and advice
- Health service
- Housing support
- Security service

- Student Union.

MUSEX

The Melbourne University Student Exchange Club (MUSEX) is one of the largest and most successful student clubs on campus. Run by students, for students, MUSEX provides you with easy access to 'locals' and the opportunity to join a range of activities including surf trips, sports matches, dinners and nights out on the town.

YOU WON'T REGRET IT!

Jeanne Delgado came to Melbourne from Emory University in the United States. "The benefits you get from studying abroad make you forget every hesitation," she says. "I chose to go to Australia because I didn't think I would experience much culture shock, but Australia actually has a distinct and unique culture compared to America. One of my new Australian friends took me and two other exchange students to the Great Ocean Road – Australian hospitality at its finest! My favourite hangout is Brunswick Street, home to alternative clothing stores and heaps of small music venues."

HOW MUCH WILL IT COST?

You should consider the following expenses when planning to study overseas:

- Tuition fees
- Living costs
- Visa application fee
- Overseas Student Health Cover (OSHC) – a requirement of the Australian Government
- Personal spending, including travel to and around Australia.

TUITION FEES

Exchange students

There are no tuition fees payable to the University of Melbourne for students on exchange. The cost of participating in the exchange program is covered by the agreement between your home institution and the University of Melbourne.

Study abroad students

Tuition fees for 2019 are shown in the table below. Study abroad students pay a set fee per semester, which allows you to enrol in three or four subjects. Fees are charged at the published rate for that semester and are charged for each semester you are enrolled. If you enrol in three or more graduate subjects you will be enrolled as a graduate student and charged the graduate study abroad fee.

HOUSING AND LIVING COSTS

Melbourne offers many lifestyle options to fit many budgets, so it's best to have a plan as to which option will suit you. You might choose to live in the inner suburbs, and walk or cycle to uni. Some students choose to save on rental costs by living further out, in which case they need to think about public transport costs or a car. Substantial savings can be had by sharing accommodation, shopping at Melbourne's famous markets, using our libraries and the student-owned co-ops, and attending free events on campus.
